

RHODE ISLAND FAMILY COURT
ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER 98-1

RE: PROVIDENCE COUNTY DOMESTIC CASEFLOW CALENDAR

Effective immediately, the Domestic Caseflow Calendar System currently used in Providence County shall be modified as follows:

The current time frame from case management conference to closure will be reduced to 6 weeks and the current time frame from case management conference to pre-trial will be reduced to 8 weeks. All other existing time frames currently used in the "tracking system" will remain the same. There will no longer be different closure dates assigned for a nominal track case and a contested track case. Rather, one closure date will be assigned for all cases regardless of the track designation.

This modification will apply to cases filed in Providence County on Wednesday, March 11, 1998 and thereafter.
