

Proposed MCLE Regulations Changes

MCLE Rule 2.12 on-line: Continuing legal education programs delivered via internet consisting of a live web cast or video lecture.

4.12 A maximum of three (3) credits may be earned by on-line courses ~~,telephonic, video, or sound tape presentations if a qualified person is in attendance to comment and answer questions in person or by one line, e-mail or telephonic means~~ (see also MCLE 6.12 hereof and Appendix D).

6.12 In the case of telephonic, video, and sound tape presentations, ~~the a qualified person must be in attendance and referred to in MCLE Rule 4.12 hereof,~~ shall be one who, by academic or professional qualification, possesses the knowledge to interact with the audience to supplement the presentation and answer questions. Commentary and question-and-answer segments should occur at a meaningful time during the program, preferably after each subject matter break. In the case of on-line courses, instruction must occur via a live webcast or video of lecture and attorneys must be able to interact with faculty via email or other contemporaneous method such as discussion board. Attendance prompts or other computerized monitoring is required.