OBJECTION DATE:
YOU MUST FILE AN OBJECTION BY THIS DATE OR THERE WILL BE NO HEARING

The above-named Plaintiff/Creditor has obtained a judgment against the Defendant/Debtor and has attached your property being held by the above-named Trustee (see the enclosed Writ of Attachment). Now the issue is whether the attached property or funds will be used to satisfy all or part of that judgment. You may have rights to claim an exemption and have the property released. For example, the property or funds may be exempt if it is from:

- ◆ Social security ◆ Pension and retirement funds ◆ Unemployment benefits ◆ Public assistance
- ◆ Temporary disability benefits ◆ Workers’ compensation benefit ◆ Certain life insurance benefits

STATE OF RHODE ISLAND JUDICIARY
DISTRICT COURT

You may have other exemptions. This is not a complete list. The court allows a hearing where you may claim an exemption that may stop the attachment.

CERTIFICATION

I certify that on _____, service of the Writ of Attachment was made on the Trustee, and on the same date I mailed by regular mail, postage prepaid, copies of the Writ of Attachment and this Notice of Attachment (Not for Wages) to the Defendant/Debtor at the address listed above.

TO THE DEFENDANT/DEBTOR: HOW TO OBJECT TO ATTACHMENT

If you claim an exemption, you must complete the attached Defendant/Debtor's Objection to Notice of Attachment (Not for Wages) and file it with the clerk on or before the Objection Date (listed above). You are also required to mail a copy of your objection to the Plaintiff/Creditor's attorney or to the Plaintiff/Creditor directly if self-represented. If you file a timely objection, you must appear in court on the Hearing Date listed above. If you do not file an objection, the Plaintiff/Creditor will be allowed to use the attached property to satisfy the judgment against you.

If you need language assistance, please contact the Office of Court Interpreters at (401) 222-8710 or by email at interpreterfeedback@courts.ri.gov before your court appearance.
