

News Advisory

From the Rhode Island Judiciary

District Court sessions delayed Feb. 12

PROVIDENCE – Court hearings in the Rhode Island District Court on Wednesday, February 12, will be delayed until 2 p.m. in Providence, Kent and Newport counties, and until 1 p.m. in Washington County.

The court sessions are being postponed so that District Court judges may attend the funeral of retired Associate Judge John M. McLoughlin, who died on February 5.

Please note that these delayed times apply only to the District Court. Other state courts are not affected.

#